Arkansas’s Historic Districts

Arkansas’s neighborhoods are a far cry from today’s fast-paced, comfort-oriented culture. They were designed to be a place where one could find a sense of community, where neighbors knew each other, and where life was simpler. These neighborhoods are a testament to a time when life was slower, when people had more time to connect with their neighbors and to enjoy the simple pleasures of life.

How To Use This Map

This brochure contains a map of the historic areas listed in the National Register of Historic Places in Arkansas. The map is designed to help you navigate your way through the different neighborhoods and to provide you with a comprehensive view of the historic properties. The map is divided into four sections: North, East, West, and Central. Each section contains a detailed list of the properties, along with their addresses and any additional information that may be relevant.

Arkansas’s Historic Districts

Arkansas’s historic districts are listed on the National Register of Historic Places. These districts are a testament to the rich history of the state and provide a glimpse into the lives of the people who once called these places home. The districts are divided into four sections: North, East, West, and Central. Each section contains a detailed list of the properties, along with their addresses and any additional information that may be relevant.

Arkansas’s Historic Preservation Program

Arkansas’s Historic Preservation Program is a state-wide effort to preserve and protect the historic properties of the state. The program is funded by the National Park Service and the State of Arkansas. It is administered by the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program, located in Little Rock, Arkansas. The program is dedicated to preserving the state’s historic resources and to promoting public awareness of the importance of preserving our cultural heritage.

Note: This brochure was compiled in 2010 and may not reflect the current status of any National Register listed property. You can find out more information about the historic properties listed in this brochure at the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program website at www.arkansaspreservation.com.