DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The Black Masonic Temple is a four story masonry building of rectangular plan. The building is divided into three bays with the middle projecting slightly forward. On the first story, rusticated stone piers mark the corners and a stone pediment with full entablature articulates the entrance. Between these elements, store fronts infill. The second story has two narrow windows in the center bay and two wider windows on the flanking bays. Below the windows is a stone storyline and above is a stone cornice. Openings on the third and fourth floors are vertical with terra cotta infills between floors and arched tops. Arches spring from the capitals of pilasters which divide the five windows and begin at the cornice. There is stained glass in the arch above the impost. The motif is the masonic insignia.

The side elevations (east and west) have the same conformation as the front (south) and are three bayed with ten rows of windows, the center containing four.

The interior contains the original stairs and wainscots. The second story is divided into offices working from a central hall. The third and fourth stories are large open meeting spaces.

Alterations include an elevator and the partial restoration of the top floor, which was damaged by fire.

When it was completed, the Masonic lodge on the corner of Fourth and State Streets was the tallest building in Pine Bluff. The structure was built in stages during 1902, 1903 and 1904 by the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons of the State of Arkansas, the state's black Masonic order.

The first black masonic organization in Arkansas was the J.M. Alexander Lodge Number 4 established at Helena in June, 1866, by the Grand Lodge of Missouri. On March 28, 1873, representatives from the three black Masonic Lodges met in Little Rock to form a Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons in Arkansas. The organization of the grand lodge was perfected on March 31, 1873, and William Henry Gray, a free-born native of Washington, D.C. was elected the first grand master.<sup>1</sup>

Black masonry thus began a period of rapid growth and by the 1880's a movement began to construct a grand lodge building. A group headed by Wiley Jones initiated efforts to persuade the grand lodge to locate in Pine Bluff. Jones bought two lots on East Second Avenue and presented them to the lodge. Edwin Cook, a local architect, drew plans for a building.<sup>2</sup> When the Grand Lodge met in Pine Bluff during August, 1891, after a "stormy session", the organization gave approval to locate the temple in Pine Bluff.<sup>3</sup> However, the proposed building was never started as the financing of the structure proved to be an insurmountable problem.

Apparently the approval of Pine Bluff as the location of the temple by the Grand Lodge in 1891 at least decided the question as to where the lodge would be built. By 1902 the Grand Lodge has accumulated enough money to but a lot and start the building. On March 24, 1902, the Grand Lodge bought Lot 3, Block 40 of Old Town Pine Bluff for $7,000.<sup>4</sup> Gibbs and Sanders, Little Rock architects, were employed to design the building and on July 7, 1902, W.S. Helton, a Pine Bluff builder, was given a contract to construct a four-story brick and stone structure.<sup>5</sup>

As part of the Grand Lodge meeting the cornerstone of the building was laid August 14, 1902, with elaborate ceremonies which involved local dignitaries as well as officials of the Grand Lodge and the Order of the Eastern Star. "Fully 900 Masons" marched up Main Street from Jones Park (located at Harding and Main Streets) to the site of the new building for the services.<sup>6</sup> Form No. 19-300a (Hev. 10-74)

Funds available for ocnstruction were exhausted by the time the lot was bought and foundation was laid. For over a year work was suspended on the structure. Through the efforts of J.N. Donohoo and J.C. Corbin, Grand Lodge Trustees, a loan of $25,000 was obtained from the Peoples Savings Bank of Pine Bluff to complete the building. Pat Powers of Little Rock was given a contract to finish the structure on the foundation built by Helton.<sup>7</sup>

Enough had been completed on the temple to permit the Grand Lodge to hold its annual meeting there beginning on August 8, 1904. Stairways were improvised and the sessions were held in the lodge hall on the third floor. In opening the first session, Grand Master Moses A. Clark said: "I now sound the gavel for the first time ever in a building of this kind, built and owned by Negroes.<sup>8</sup>

When the Grand Lodge met in August, 1912, the last payment was made on the temple mortgage. At a special ceremony held at exactly the same hou@ and date (August 14) that the cornerstone was laid 10 years previously, the payment was made and the temple dedicated.<sup>9</sup>

In the early morning hours of May 25, 1954, fire struck the building and burned out the third and fourth floors. The losges were covered by insurance and the building was restored except for a dormer on the roof. As part of the remodeling a self-service elevator was installed to make it easier to reach the upper floors of the temple. The work was completed in 1955 and a second cornerstone was installed on the northeast corner of the building above the original stone.

The first floor of the building contains stores and shops. The second floor in addition ot the Grand Lodge's Offices has several offices which are rented to doctors and dentists. The state now has 184 lodges with 6,000 to 7,000 members and Grand Lodge continues to hold its annual communications in Pine Bluff each year.<sup>10</sup>

Re: Masonic Temple, Pine Bluff

Dear Sirs:

The staff of the Arkansas Historic Preservation Program is preparing a National Register nomination for the above captioned property which will be presented to the Arkansas State Review Committee at their June meeting. If approved, the nomination will be submitted to the National Register office in Washington for final consideration

The National Register of Historic Places is a listing of historic sites, buildings, objects and districts from all across the country that are worthy of preservation. Entry in the National Register is an honor which places an obligation on a private owner. It does, however, provide protection through comment by the Advisory Council on Historic Preservation from federally financed, assisted or licensed projects that might affect a National Register property.

On October 4, 1976, the President signed a Tax Reform Act of which Section 2124 refers to tax incentives for historic properties. Enclosed you will find an information sheet on that tax act.

If you have any questions concerning the program or this property's nomination, please contact Sandra Taylor Smith of our staff.

Enclosed are two copies of this letter. Please complete the form below, sign and return the original to our office. The copy is for your files. We would appreciate receiving any comments you might have concerning the nomination of this property. If we do not hear from you within 30 days your approval will be assumed.

Sincerely,

Barbara Woodard Barbara Woodard, Deputy Director Arkansas Historic Preservation Program
