Description

The Dr. Frizell House is a one-and-one-half story, wood frame Craftsman residence. The corner porch disguises a virtually uninterrupted gable roof which shelters a rectangular and balanced plan. A single exterior chimney is attached to the western wall near the northern elevation. The roof material is composition shingle, the walls are clad in original stucco, and the continuous foundation is formed from cast concrete.

The northern or front elevation is composed of a cross-gable porch attached at the northeast corner of the front gable plan. The porch is supported on six tall, sloping wood columns which in turn are supported by stuccoed pedestals. The porch and patio it covers wrap around slightly to the east side. The cornices throughout are decorated with knee braces and exposed rafters.

A hipped roof rear room is completely fenestrated with four-over-four wood sash windows; otherwise, the entire house, including the doghouse dormers on both sides of the main ridge, is fenestrated with three-over-one wood sash windows.

Three other outbuildings--a doctor's office, a second residence, and a small garage--all date from the period of significance of the main house and are therefore included in this nomination.

Significance

Criterion C, local significance

The Dr. Frizell House (Part E, Historic Context #4) is the best example in Bradford of a one-and-one-half story, wood frame Craftsman residence. Constructed in 1929-30, this house is typical of the third period in the evolution of Craftsman style designs in White County. Its floor plan has become very regular and symmetrical and features only the vestiges of the irregularity of plan and elevation which was one of the hallmark features of this building style.

Verbal Boundary Description:

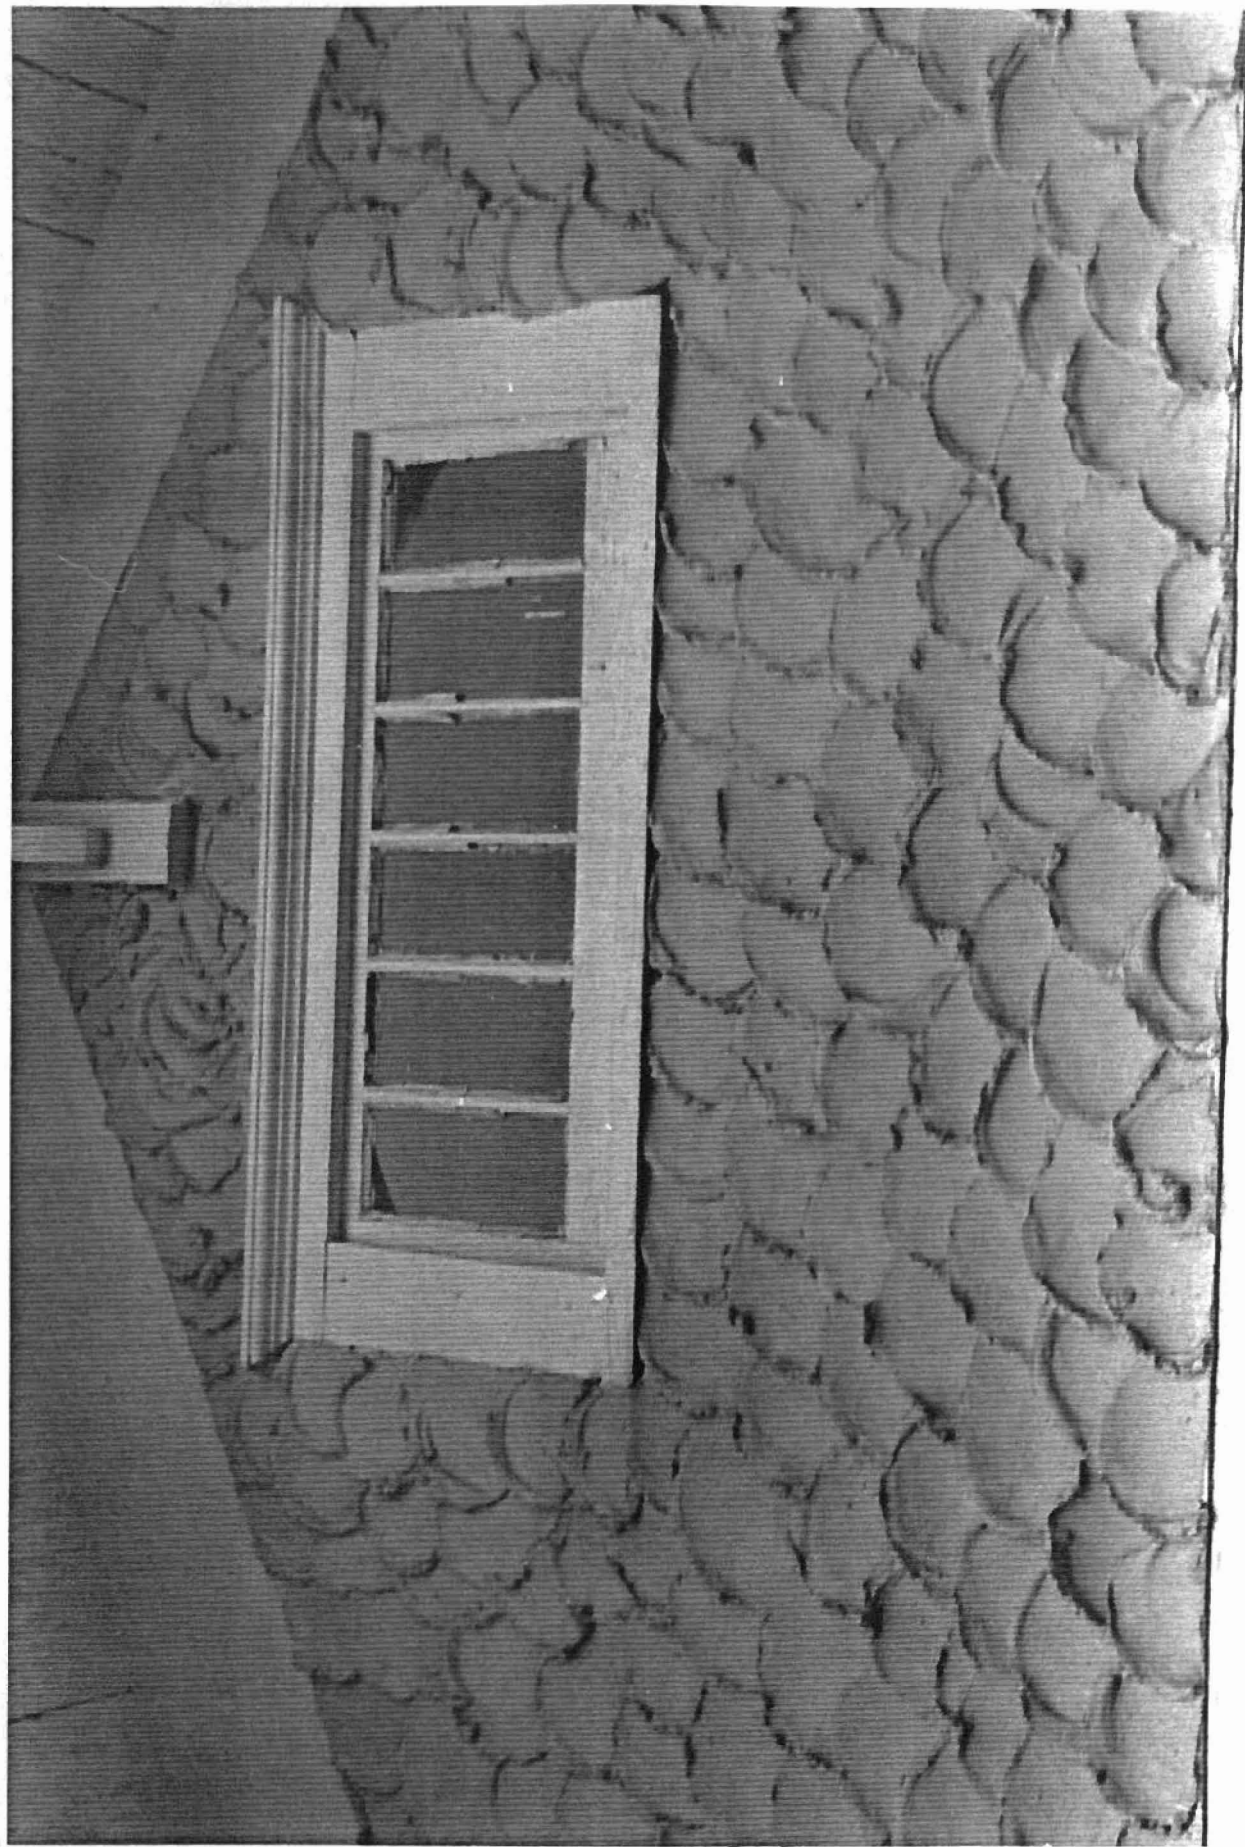

Beginning at a point formed by the intersection of the eastern edge of State Highway 67 with a perpendicular line running along the southern edge of Elm Street, proceed easterly along said line for a distance of approximately 200 feet to a point formed by its intersection with a perpendicular line running parallel to the eastern elevation of the associated garage building and located 50 feet to the east thereof; thence proceed southerly for a distance of approximately 200 feet along said line to a point formed by its intersection with a perpendicular line running parallel to the southern elevation of the doctor's office building; thence proceed westerly along said line for a distance of approximately 200 feet to a point formed by its intersection with eastern edge of State Highway 67; thence proceed northerly for a distance of approximately 200 feet along said line to the point of beginning.

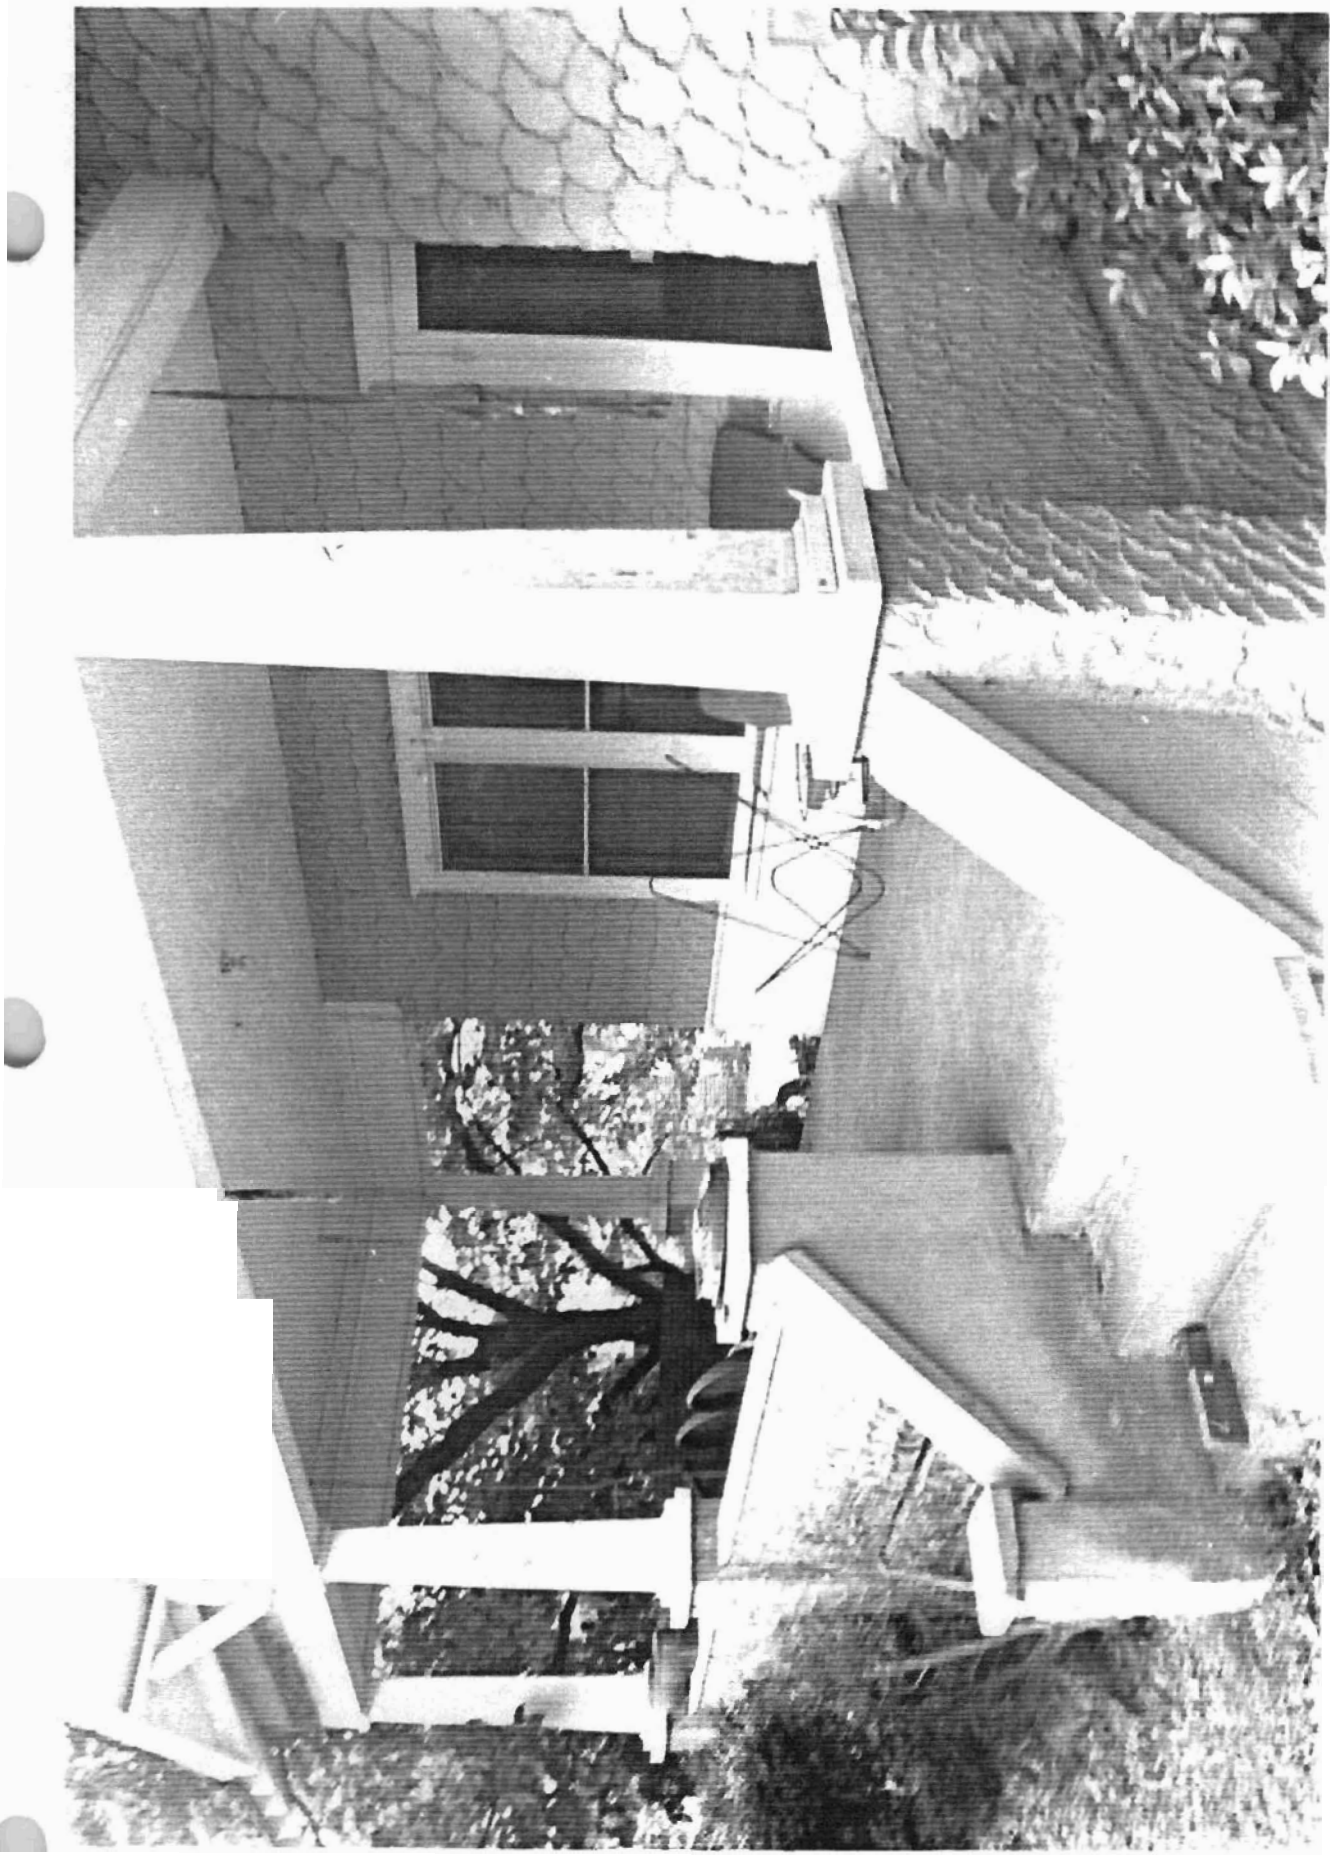

Boundary Justification:

The original lot has been subdivided during the non-historic period, resulting in an indefinite current lot boundary; therefore, this boundary includes all the property historically associated with this resource that retains its integrity.
